Inequality

Please feel free to doodle, sketch or make notes on your table sheet throughout the evening!

Round 1: Exploring our disciplinary preconceptions in the context of a case study (30 min)

How does your discipline define inequality?

How does that impact the way in which you explore the topic?

What does it highlight or obscure?

What other approaches might be interesting, considering the case?

Find a new table that interests you (5 min)

Round 2: Explore new learnings, new perspectives and role for collaboration (30 min)

Using the strongest learning from the last Round:

What underlying assumptions did you uncover?

What new thinking is required in response?

What significance does this have for you personally?

What does progress in this area look like? What stands in our way?

How are collaborations instrumental in facilitating progress?

Round 3: Harvesting (10 min)

Create a flipchart for sharing:

What new ideas emerged?

What are you taking away?

1-2 names of individuals who are interested (or have resources to offer)

Report-out: Outline learnings for group (2-3 min each table)
